NE20024 – $110.00

The Emotional Color Wheel Regular Edition

Gr. 7-12 It's easy to say you love someone or dislike something. You can even draw things to help people understand these feelings, like a heart or a frowning face. But artists can say the same thing with colors and shapes. It's like a secret language, a code that is very easy to understand once you know how. For example, why do you think nearly every country uses the color red on their stop signs? Red is a color that grabs attention and alerts us to possible danger. This book will help you learn about the ideas of color and shape and how to use them to create art with secrets in them, aka expressionism. Includes lesson ideas with additional space for sketching and planning projects. 80 pages.

Art has stress-reducing benefits

When students have a creative outlet, studies have found that their dopamine levels increase. This means that stressed and anxious students feel better when they're making art.

Explore art tools that will help students reduce feelings of stress, practice mindfulness, become more self-aware, process and understand their emotions, and build self-confidence.
