Art is for everyone!

"By incorporating adaptations into art curriculum, we allow students with special needs to feel a sense of empowerment, independence, and pride. We give them a vehicle to express themselves, advocate for themselves, and show us the things within them that they oftentimes cannot otherwise express."

— Annie Dudgeon, Beloit Turner High School, WI

Paper weight explained

Paper weight is listed in pounds (lbs.) and determined by weighing 500 sheets (a ream) in the basis size of that particular type of paper. The higher the weight, the thicker the paper.

Different types of paper can have different basis sizes. For example, drawing paper has a basis size of 24" x 36", while watercolor paper has a basis size of 22" x 30". A drawing paper and watercolor paper that are both listed as 80 lbs. are not necessarily the same thickness.

Free lesson plan!

PAPER COLLAGE

This lesson plan was inspired by the work of Ashley Bryan, an artist, author, and poet, who writes and illustrates books around a variety of themes. Have students illustrate one of their own poems or a passage that inspires them.

1 Have students begin by choosing the size of their collage and sketching out a basic idea of what they will do.

2 Then they can start working on the background. The layering of larger colors and shapes with the collage technique can help express the chosen text.

3 Students should work forward in layers, adding smaller shapes and details to create a rich and interesting collage surface.

4 When their collages are finished, have students cover with Mod Podge® to bond all layers and seal the artwork.

Free lesson plan!

1 Pose manikin in a position that shows "movement" and lightly draw in pencil. Proportion figure using shapes. Sketch over the figure to add clothing and accessories.

2 Trace over final superhero in black marker and erase all pencil marks.

3 Scan drawing onto a computer and use Photoshop to add color to the superhero.

4 Create comic strip by using a ruler to create boxes for each scene. Draw out each scene in pencil. Add word bubbles with text.

5 Trace over final comic strip graphics in black marker and erase all pencil marks.

6 Scan comic strip onto a computer and use Photoshop to add color to your graphics and edit the wording in the bubbles. Create any onomatopoeia in Photoshop and print along with the superhero. Print the comic strip on 11" x 17" paper and trim to original size.

7 Glue the superhero picture and onomatopoeia onto foam board and cut out with an X-ACTO® knife.

8 Glue the comic strip onto foam board and attach the superhero and onomatopoeia, making them stand up on the comic strip base.

Tips for rehydrating ceramic clay that needs TLC

If your clay is ...

Somewhat moist but cracking

Cut clay into large pieces, wrap in a damp terry towel, and place in a plastic bag. In about 24 hours, clay will be ready to use.

Hard but can still be cut with wire

Slide clay into 2" thick slabs and create deep holes with the handle of a fettling knife. Place a slab in a plastic bag and fill the holes with water. Add another slab on top and repeat. Seal the bag and clay will be ready in a couple days.

Hard and impossible to cut with wire

Let clay completely dry out. While wearing a mask in a well-ventilated area, use a hammer to break clay up into golf-ball-sized pieces. Put pieces into a bucket and add water. After a few minutes, clay will break down into a slip. Place slip on unpainted plywood or drywall until it's dried out enough to knead and use.

Skutt EnviroLink™

EnviroLink™ allows your controller to turn your EnviroVent2™ on or off based on how you program your kiln. Easy to install — simply plug your vent into the EnviroLink™ and connect the control wire from the EnviroLink™ into output 4 of your KilnMaster™ controller. If you have a KilnMaster™ kiln with a LinkBoard it is even easier — just plug the control wire into the socket on the side of the kiln. Z47982 — $190.50

Skutt EnviroVent2™ Ventilation System

Designed to extract fumes from an electric kiln and vent them outdoors. Vent is wall mounted, moving the vent motor away from under the kiln so the motor is not exposed to the heat and cannot transfer any vibration into the kiln. Since vent is wall mounted, it pulls air through the duct work instead of pushing it so if a leak ever formed in the duct work, the fumes would not be pushed into the room. The 120V motor allows you to vent 2 kilns up to 12 cu. ft. each, or one kiln between 12 and 24 cu. ft. An additional adapter kit is needed to vent two kilns. Heat exiting blower is 160° F maximum. Z52170 — $650.00

VOLTAGE, PHASE, AND AMPERAGE — THE TERMS YOU NEED TO KNOW

Correctly match an electric kiln to the electrical service available on-site

- Voltage is the amount of electrical current supplied to the location. Some schools and businesses have 208V, while 240V is the most common for the majority of residential buildings.
- Phase refers to the number of current-carrying wires supplying electrical current to the location. Single-Phase has 2 live wires and 1 ground wire, and is common in residential buildings. 3-Phase has 3 live wires and 1 ground wire, and is usually found only in businesses and institutions, such as schools.
- Amperage refers to the rate or intensity of the current at the location. If more appliances are being used on the same line than the available intensity, the amperage drops. It is always advisable that a kiln have its own dedicated electrical line.
- We highly recommend that an electrician inspect the site to determine the exact electrical service available where the kiln will be hooked up. Please ask for written documentation of the electrical requirements of the site where your kiln will be installed.

EZ-LIFT LID

THE SAFE AND EASY ALTERNATIVE TO LINOLEUM

Hands-on learning puts understanding in the palm of their hands

Nasco Safety-Kut® Printmaking Material

The original Safety-Kut®—first in safety and quality. Greatly reduces the possibility of classroom accidents usually associated with lino block printmaking. Cuts very smoothly without skipping. Won't slip away from user while carving. 3/8" thickness allows for printing on both sides and is great for beginners who may dig into the material. Does not crack, break, or crumble like traditional linoleum and other soft printing blocks. Score, bend, and then tear the blocks to make smaller pieces. Use on various types of roto presses as well as in a linoleum block printing press, or just apply simple pressure to the block or circle. Rubbing tools are optional.

Easy-turn handles

A. 23" Large Master Etch Press

Easy-turn handles operate finely threaded and calibrated pressure adjusters. Phenolic press plate is a lightweight, nonporous, noncompressible material that will not rust. Prints up to 22" x 35" may be pulled on the bed that measures 23 5/8" x 36". Dual calibration pressure markings allow for both speed in the initial rough adjustment and accuracy in the fine tuning. Spring-assisted, smoothly ground, chrome-plated 4" upper roll and lathe-turned 3" lower roll are solid steel and ride on industrial-quality, long-life roller bearings. Fully enclosed steel gears drive the lower roll at a 3.33 to 1 ratio, resulting in easy pulling of all types of intaglio (etching, engraving, aqua tint, dry point) and collagraph prints, including mounted linoleum up to 7/8" thick. Total clearance without blanket is 1 5/8". Super-strength Tenzaloy castings, rather than cast iron, form the frame, another element that meets the strength requirements while avoiding extra weight and the possibility of rust. The feet are pre-drilled for attachment to any work bench. A 1/4" thick cushion blanket is included with the press.
Z16921 — $5,000.00

11" Econo Etch Baby Press

Simple, direct-drive presses in which the lower roll turns 360° when the two-point handle turns 360°. More effort is required to pull a print than in a geared press, but the small size of the press keeps the effort moderate. Suitable for etching calligraphy, paper plate lithography, and unmounted linoleum block printing, as well as embossing. Total clearance is 1 5/16". Perfect for greeting cards. Print size: 9 1/2" x 18", base dimensions: 10 3/4" L x 13 1/4" W, bed size: 19 3/4" L x 11 3/4" W. Does not include bed or blanket.

The macro and micro pressure gauges ensure that the perfect amount of pressure is applied to each print. 4 1/2" dia., lathe-turned upper roll may be raised to accommodate mounted linoleum up to 7/8" thick. Total clearance without blanket is 1 1/4". Makes up to 12" x 26" prints. Includes press, phenolic plate, blanket, and stand. Plate and blanket are 26" in length.

Paper chain pixel art lesson plan

National Art Standards

Creating: Anchor Standards 1–3

Presenting: Anchor Standards 5–6

Responding: Anchor Standards 7–8

Connecting: Anchor Standards 10–11

Objectives

Students will...

- Plan and design a visually appealing pixel pattern
- Relate their artwork to their lives and/or culture
- Describe the thought process behind their design and how it relates to their personal identity

Planning (Day 1, 45 minutes)

1. Explain the concept of pixel art and show examples. Discuss how pixel art can be created using different mediums, including paper chains.
2. Have students sketch ideas for their individual pixel art projects. Encourage them to think about themes or images that are meaningful to them or reflect their cultural backgrounds.
3. Then have each student select a design and plan it on grid paper. Ensure the design can be effectively translated into a pixel art format, especially with the limitations of the dowel size you are using. Encourage students to think about color combinations and refine their designs to enhance visual impact.

Plan design on grid paper

Creation (Day 2-3, 45 minutes each)

4. If working with pre-cut strips, have students count and select the number of strips they need for their design. Remind them that each strip represents one pixel.
5. Tell students that they will work on one column of their design at a time. Remind them that they should try to make each loop the same size so that their design hangs correctly. Download the free lesson plan to see specific steps.
6. Then, have students assemble their projects. They should start by tying one end of their string about 1" from the end of their dowel. They should then loop the first link in each paper chain over the dowel. Make sure students stay within their planned design and maintain consistency in color placement.
7. To stabilize the design, use glue or hot glue to glue the white connectors in each strand to the strand next to it.
8. When they have added all their paper chains, have them tie the other end of their string to the opposite end of the dowel to create a hanger to display their creation.

Conclusion (Day 3, 45 minutes)

9. Showcase: Allow students to share their completed pixel art projects with the class. Encourage them to explain the thought process behind their design and how it represents their personal identity or cultural background. If possible, arrange to display the individual pixel art projects in the classroom or school to share students' work with a broader audience.

Extension activities:

- Advanced pixel art: For students interested in a challenge, suggest creating more complex pixel art, such as a character's face, and animal face, a mascot, or a detailed scene.
- Thematic designs: Encourage students to base their designs on themes such as nature, technology, cultural symbols, or emotional expressions.
- Digital pixel art: Introduce digital tools for creating pixel art and encourage students to experiment with digital designs.

"Hoo" wants to try felting? lesson plan

NEW

National Art Standards

- VA:Cr1.1.4
- VA:Cr2.1.4
- VA:Cr3.1.4
- VA:Re7.1.4

Objectives

Students will...

- Understand the process of wet felting
- Explore the use of texture and color in fiber art
- Develop fine motor skills and patience through the felting process
- Learn to translate visual ideas into a tactile, three-dimensional form

To download this free lesson plan, visit nascoeducation.com/lesson-plans and search U28563.

Day 1: Introduction to wet felting and design planning

1. Discuss what felting is and how wet felting works. Explain how wool fibers bond together with the application of warm water, soap, and agitation. Show examples of felted objects, focusing on animals or birds.
2. Introduce the project: creating a felt owl. Show images or sketches of owls, discussing the shapes, colors, and textures that will be used.
3. Give a demonstration of wet felting. Show students how to layer wool roving on bubble wrap or a bamboo mat. Demonstrate the process of adding soap and warm water, then gently rubbing the wool to start the felting process. Explain the importance of patience and consistent pressure during felting. The longer you felt, the denser the fabric will become.
4. If you will be adding details with needle felting, you can also demonstrate that process. Review the safety procedures students need to follow when working with sharp objects like felting needles. Explain how felting needles have barbs or notches that catch the wool fibers and push them together, creating felt.
5. For the remainder of the class period, have students sketch their owl design and decide on colors and shapes they want to use. Discuss how to break down the owl into basic shapes (e.g., body, wings, eyes, beak) to make the felting process easier.

Day 2: Creating the felt owl

1. Have students prepare their workstations. To minimize mess, students can work in shallow trays and have towels or sponges on hand. They should have bubble wrap or a bamboo mat, wool roving, soap, and a bowl of warm water. If you will be needle felting, they will also need felting needles and foam pads.
2. Layer wool for the base of the owl.
 - Start with a piece of wool roving that's about the size and shape of the owl's body. Pull apart the wool fibers gently, then lay them out flat on the bubble wrap.
 - Lay the fibers in one direction first (e.g., horizontally), then add a second layer of wool on top, laying the fibers in the opposite direction (vertically). This cross-layering helps the wool fibers bond more effectively.
 - Repeat this process to create at least 3–4 layers, depending on the thickness desired for the owl's body. You can make sure that there aren't any gaps or thin areas by holding the owl up to the light.
3. Felt the base of the owl.
 - Apply soap and water: Pour a small amount of warm, soapy water over the wool. It should be wet but not soaking. You can dab up any excess water with a towel or sponge. Demonstrate how to use gentle, circular motions to start rubbing and shaping the wool into your desired shape. This friction, combined with the soap and water, will begin the felting process.
 - Rolling and pressing: After the wool is the shape you want, place another piece of bubble wrap or a bamboo mat on top of the wool. Roll the mat with the wool inside like a sushi roll. Roll it back and forth several times while pressing firmly to increase the friction. This helps the fibers lock together.
4. Add details, rinse, and dry.
 - Check progress: Unroll the mat and check the wool's texture. It should start to feel firmer. If it's still soft or loose, continue rolling or rubbing with your hands until the fibers are well bonded.
 - Reshaping: Encourage students to shape the felt as they work. They can gently tug or press areas that need more definition. Remind them that they can trim any rough edges with scissors at the end.
 - o Note: Felting takes time. Consistent rubbing and rolling will result in a stronger, more durable felt. If a piece isn't felting as expected, students can add more wool, re-wet the area, or try a different felting technique.
5. Once the body is felted, students can add smaller shapes for the wings, eyes, and beak. Show students how to felt these details separately and attach them to the body with additional rubbing and pressing or how to layer them directly on the main piece with needle felting.
6. Once all the features are securely felted, rinse the entire owl in clean water to remove soap residue. Pat the owl dry with a towel and leave it to dry completely. Drying can take several hours or overnight, depending on the thickness of the wool.

Day 3 (Finishing touches and reflection)

1. Give students 20 minutes to finish any remaining details on their owls. Use scissors to trim any uneven edges or add precise shaping.
2. As students finish, have them present their felt owls to the class, discussing their process and the choices they made with colors and shapes.
3. Create a classroom display of the finished felt owls or allow students to take their projects home.

Extension ideas:

- Sewing: Students can sew on small details like claws or embellishments with needle and thread after the felt owl is dry.
- Research: Students can research different owl species and create a felt owl based on a specific type.
- Writing: Have students write a short story or description about their owl, explaining its habitat and characteristics.
- Cross-curricular connection: Integrate a science lesson about owls and their role in the ecosystem, enhancing the art project with scientific knowledge.
